is all about communication. You talk. We listen. We offer leadership, knowledge and expertise and variety of style.

Think about the following when talking to your stylist:

- What do you like best about your hair?
- How much time do you want to spend on your hair?
- What don't you like about it, what problems need to be addressed?
- Do you have any parameters about your style?
- Do you have any length considerations?
- Do you have pictures that can help accurately describe your desired style?
